To Aid Needy

City Hails Christmas Fund Drive

The more fortunate in this area were urged to help the needy through a Daily Colonist Fund Drive yesterday by city and municipal officials, welfare workers and private citizens.

To a person, they congratulated the Colonist on its "500 Christmas Fund" drive and urged everyone to get behind it to prevent a barren Christmas among the city's needy.

Seth Halton, publisher of the Colonist, announced launching of the fund in yesterday morning's paper. It will add to the hamper and clothing donations provided to needy people in the area by the Christmas Bureau, Salvation Army, surplus food stall and other welfare offices, he said. It will provide cash, in other words, "for extra things such as medicines, overshoes if it snows Christmas Eve, boxes of chocolates and other little personal items." It will be a "Christmas bonus."

A committee of welfare workers under chairmanship of Glen Hamilton, head of the new Silver Threads office co-ordinating services to senior citizens, will provide a list of the 500 neediest cases.

Mail or Deliver

Donations may be mailed to the "500 Christmas Fund," The Daily Colonist, or left at the newspaper or its downtown office at 1215 Broad. The Colonist, which started the drive with a $200 donation, bears all administrative costs.

Ald. Robert Macmillan, acting mayor in Percy Scourrah's absence, said it was "a pity relief for the needy can't be extended more than it is throughout the year, but it is very pleasing to see this approach taken now."

"I hope the people of Greater Victoria get behind it. I am sure they will."

Bridging the Gap

David Woodsworth, director of the Family and Children's Service, said donations to the Colonist fund would "make the difference between stark necessity and a better enjoyment of Christmas."

Mrs. E. E. Harper, who runs the surplus food stall, explained why she thought the fund was "a Godsend."

"It will help people like the woman with three children we know whose husband is a very bad alcoholic, an institutional case. They had no food or clothing. Now, they've found us. But that goes for some 160 families of more than 400 people we help, we can only serve them once a month and we don't give out money."

They need this money and you've a wonderful plan for getting it to them."

Mr. Hamilton: "The Christmas Bureau, Salvation Army and other agencies have been able to give material help. But this is a very welcome addition in that it gives that extra cash for extras that help to brighten a barren Christmas."

Supplies 'Frills'

William Hooson, city welfare administrator: "This idea is wonderful. Groups such as ourselves offer the basic needs, but there are no frills. This bonus will give the needy a bit extra—and gives them a choice of what they want to buy."

Several citizens congratulated the Colonist on its drive.

Mrs. Jane E. Nellans, 2140 Epworth: "People should be glad to support it fully."

Charles E. Salter, 2236 Hampshire Terrace: "I can't see anyone arguing against this. I'll be down to make my donation early in the week."

Mrs. M. W. Tapscott, 3342 Whittier: "It's a most worthy cause. I just feel sick over present world conditions."

Mrs. R. W. Veness, 3060 Albina: "It is a good plan. Many people really need something like this."

Mrs. P. Fawcett, 1190 Rock Street: "It's an excellent idea and wonderful of the Colonist to think of it."

Mrs. W. A. Leggett, 122 Rendell: "These people need help and this is a fine way to

Don't let them find empty stockings on Christmas morning. Give to The Daily Colonist "500 Christmas Fund."

After Hungary

Red Strength Hits Bottom World Over

ROME (AP)—The Hungarian tragedy has knocked Communist strength in Western Europe to a post-war low, a 12-nation Associated Press survey showed yesterday.

Suppression of the Hungarian freedom fighters by Russian guns, disillusioned many who believed in the Communist dream.

Thousands of west European Communists have turned in their party cards in Italy, Britain, Austria, Sweden, Switzerland, Holland and Denmark. Rank and file defections have been fewer in France, West Germany, Norway, Belgium and Finland. The reason, AP correspondents explained, was that Red parties in those countries already were down to hard core.

BREAKING AWAY

Fellow travellers are breaking away all across the continent with angry denunciations of Soviet action. The most important defection has been that of Pietro Nenni's Italian Socialist party which polled nearly 3½ million votes in the last general election and which had led the Communist line.

The Soviet cause also lost many of its most prized sympathizers—writers, artists and other intellectuals whose fame served Communist propaganda well. Among those who have denounced Russian imperialism in Hungary are French playwright—author Jean Paul Sartre, Swiss artist Hans Erni, Italian novelist-painter Carlo Levi and Italian artist Renato Guttuso.

CIRCULATION SLUMPS

Circulation of Communist newspapers has slumped in France, Britain, Austria, Sweden, Denmark and Italy.

The London Daily Worker lost a quarter of its editorial staff and a third of those on Denmark's "Land Og Folk" (Country and People) quit. Budapest correspondents of both papers resigned with charges that their eyewitness reports were altered for propaganda purposes.

The Communist version of Hungarian events remained generally the same throughout Europe: Russia intervened because "reactionaries and fascists" launched a

Building Projects Expected

Attorney-General Robert Bonner said last night that liquor price increases recommended by the Liquor Control Board "seem justified" in meeting the distillers' price hike and the board's increased overhead—both present and projected.

In a telephone interview last night Mr. Bonner termed "more important" the increases in overhead and the "outlook of increased capital costs" next year.

He did not elaborate on what he meant by increased capital costs but it is understood that the board has in mind a gradual expansion of liquor outlets.

BUILD OWN

The board in the post-war period did not get into any building projects, but it now faces the prospect, it is believed, of having to build its own stores rather than rent them from private interests.

It is also understood that the board will have to provide major warehousing facilities in Vancouver, which are at present rented from several private sources. Although no announcement has been made the board is believed to have property for such a purpose on Southwest Marine Drive.

Distillers recently increased prices on liquor sold to B.C. by an average of 18 per cent.

INDIGNATION

But the public's indignation wasn't audible until the government passed the increase along in the form of price boosts of between five and 95 cents per bottle. On a typical brand, where the distiller received 18 cents more, the LCB boosted the price to the consumer by 50 cents.

"Of course nobody likes a price increase," the attorney-general said. "But in Ontario they raised prices right across the board, including Scotch and imported stock (on which distiller prices weren't increased)."

He said B.C. will continue "more or less in line with the other provinces and our prices continue to be lower than the Prairies and much lower than the Maritimes."

The minister, who has just returned from the Ottawa conference between B.C. and federal government leaders, said the province had won Ottawa approval of a number of its recommendations.

MEXICO CITY (CP)—At least 30 persons were reported killed and 24 injured near here yesterday when a bus, crushed between two locomotives, exploded and burned.

TAIPEI, Formosa (UP)—Russian submarines have been seen operating in waters around the disputed Spratley Islands in the South China Sea, Nationalist China's central news agency reported today. It said about 20 Soviet submarines were berthed at Yulin harbor on Hainan Island off the Indochina coast earlier this month.

Pilfered Pill Robs City Pool Winners

No great fortunes were at stake, but at least two Victorians are looking unkindly on a group of enthusiastic young fans who made off with the football in the dying minutes of yesterday's Grey Cup contest.

Mrs. S. B. Spencer, 154

Robertson, missed a chance to win a $40 pool when the last ball available for the game was pilfered before the Edmonton Eskimos could convert their final touchdown. She drew the final digits "7" for Montreal and "1" for Edmonton.

Final score was 50-27. It would have been 51-27 had Edmonton converted.

A second miffed loser was Clare Anderson, 1855 Fort, who had his money on a point total of 78.

Boys Put Their House in Order

Replacing some of the 200 window panes smashed by young vandals recently at the old Royal Oak School, Maurice Hunt, left, and Bob Overgaard, 12-year-old members of Saanich Police Boys' Club, enjoy doing something constructive. With some 160 other club members they are spending their Saturday mornings putting the school in shape for use as a clubhouse where they will get instruction in boxing, tumbling, table tennis and other activities from Const. Harry Adams and other members of the Saanich police force. The old school is being loaned to the club by Saanich municipality. — (Colonist photo by Jim Ryan.)

Nagy Kidnap Ires Workers

IMRE NAGY

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP)—The General Workers' Council of Greater Budapest demanded last night that the kidnapped former Premier Nagy be brought back and installed as head of the Hungarian government.

(This coincided with a demand by Yugoslavia that the Hungarian government live up to its promise and either permit Nagy to return to his home in Budapest or take up refuge in Yugoslavia. President Tito's government said it did not believe Nagy went to Romania of his own free will, as the Hungarian government declared.)

The council claims to represent all the workers of the capital and 65 per cent of those in the rest of the country. It asked Premier Janos Kadar's government to disclose through Budapest radio Nagy's present whereabouts and "the true circumstances of his departure."

The council claims to represent all the workers of the capital and 65 per cent of those in the rest of the country. It asked Premier Janos Kadar's government to disclose through Budapest radio Nagy's present whereabouts and "the true circumstances of his departure."

WANT TO SEE HIM

The council requested that a three-member delegation be permitted to visit Nagy personally "wherever he is."

Council members scoffed at the government version of Nagy's "voluntary" departure for Romania, saying they didn't believe a word of it.

A five-member committee investigated Nagy's disappearance and reported that the version published by the Yugoslav press apparently was correct.

"If this is true, the Hungarian workers will give a resounding answer," a member of the council added.

He said the workers are clinging to all their demands on the Kadar government including the reinstatement of Nagy and the withdrawal of Russian troops from Budapest.

"We want to know where Nagy is and when we find him, we want him to return as prime minister," the council member said.

But the council advised workers not to launch another strike because "workers have to live."

WORKERS MUST PAY

Leaders of the council said Hungary loses about $2,000,000 a day when production is at a complete standstill and "ultimately the workers have to pay for that."

"We have proved to the world where we stand with the unprecedented general strike of the entire

Bad Cheques Flood City In Alarming Numbers

D. JACKSON FAUSTMAN CHIEF JOHN BLACKSTOCK

Stolen Cheque Writer Believed in Use

Bad cheques are being floated throughout the Greater Victoria area in alarming numbers, Police Chief John Blackstock warned yesterday.

Latest case was reported by Al Ockwell, manager of the Safeway store at 2100 Quadra. It was for $110.56 payable to an H. Stone and the name of Superior Logging Co. was stamped on it.

"Stone" was described as five feet, 10 inches tall, of husky build with reddish hair and about 38 years old.

The cheque was reported similar to several others which have been circulated in this area since a cheque-writer was stolen from a city firm recently.

Chief Blackstock said many had been floated in Greater Victoria, and "nine or 10" are in amounts of more than $100.

Daughter's Babies Killed, Father Says

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP)—An Air Force sergeant stationed in Japan has written the sheriff's office accusing his wife and daughter of killing three infants born to the daughter out of wedlock here, officers reported yesterday.

Deputies said they received the letter yesterday from Sgt. Jack Ubel directing them to dig in the yard of Ubel's former home at month-old boy was found in shop-nearby Edwards Air Force Base, being bag on a dump at nearby Tehachapi.

There, deputies said, they uncovered the remains of a 7-month-old baby, buried 32 inches deep and wrapped in a May 1955 issue of Personal Romance magazine.

Dr. Robert Huntington Jr. Kern county pathologist, said the baby's body was too decomposed to determine the sex.

Officers said Ubel's wife, Virginia, 30, and his daughter, Mary, 20, were taken into custody yesterday at St. Paul, Minn., and are being held for investigation of murder. Extradition proceedings will be instituted against them Monday, deputies said.

Ubel's letter also provided information that led deputies to check their records of Nov. 18, buried.

Suez Debate Opens In Ottawa Tomorrow

OTTAWA (CP)—The government is expected to have little trouble at the special session of parliament opening tomorrow in getting money to finance Canada's contribution to the United Nations Middle East police force.

But opposition parties have made it known they will have last Tuesday, committing a maximum of some of the more than 2,000 Canadian troops to the developments in the four weeks UN force. But the government since the crisis in the Suez area must get approval of expenditures began with Israel's invasion of Egypt.

The division in the unity of the is opposed to Canadians being western powers and common members shown at the UN force, and the role of Parlia- ment itself in the crisis are points which opposition members have indicated they will stress in the coming debates.

AID FOR REFUGEES

And unanimity is expected on the second item of parliament's agenda: the voting of $200,000 for relief of Hungarian refugees, half to be given to the UN refugee fund and half to the Canadian Red Cross.

The special session is expected to last 10 days.

Parliament will not be asked to vote formal approval of the government order-in-council, passed sent Nov. 3 to Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden.

The government is expected to refuse any such proposal. Reports from London said the letter contained a sharp rebuke of Britain's armed intervention in Egypt, Mr. Eden's criticism of the Egyptian government as "ridiculous" and said he has "never had anything but friendly, though frank, communications with Sir Anthony."

There have been reports Egypt is opposed to Canadians being members of the police force. How- ever, Mr. Pearson said in New York that the troops now being sent would not affect the eventual shipment of the battalion, and added he hoped the statement "will remove the impression that Canada has been turned down by Egypt."

'Goodwill Towards Men'

THE Daily Colonist has gladly launched with its own contribution a "500 Christmas Fund." The object is simple and close to home: to brighten the festive season for local citizens in drab and needy circumstances. Often enough, despite the fine efforts of recognized welfare agencies, they are left outside the wide sweep of the Christmas spirit of mercy and goodwill. It is in close co-operation with official welfare organizations, in fact, that this fund has been initiated.

Welfare officials will pick out the 500 neediest families in the Greater Victoria district. The purpose then is to augment whatever Christmas food is given those on relief, or add to the meagre resources of those beyond relief but still distressed, with a cash donation. In no case could it be very large, but its tonic value would be immense. Perhaps only those who have experienced the dreary monotony of life with bare necessities supplied but never a spare dollar to spend, can really appreciate what an unexpected gift of this kind would mean. It can be imagined, however, to the recipients, many of whom will be elderly, it will be as manna from heaven.

Christmas is the season of good cheer and happiness, and despite the ills of the world most families manage to enjoy a sumptuous and hearty celebration. This fund will help those left out in large measure of the gaiety of the occasion, through no fault of their own. It will be an expression of charitableness at home amid plenty. This newspaper is confident that thousands of Victorians will endorse the plan with sympathy and support, thereby bringing comfort and warmth to the spirits of the less fortunate among them.

As indicated in the news columns, donations may be handed in or directed to either the Douglas or Broad Street offices of The Daily Colonist, and all contributions will be acknowledged in print.

Public Convenience Last

BECAUSE Christmas Eve falls on a Monday, all B.C. government employees are to have what amounts to a five-day Christmas holiday this year. This means that in the period from Dec. 21 to Jan. 2 provincial government offices will be open for only three days, with a weekend in the middle, and people doing business with them will just have to wait, no matter how urgent their affairs may be.

The "festive season" having grown to such proportions in recent years, perhaps there is nothing particularly remarkable in this; but it does illustrate the degree to which public business is being subordinated to personal pleasure and the convenience of office management. When the policy of adding Christmas Eve as a third holiday was adopted one official viewpoint was that if government offices were kept open the day before Christmas not enough work would be done to make it worth while. In that respect government offices may be no different from many other businesses—with the exception, of course, of stores. Government departments, however, are maintained by the taxpayers, and this attitude shows scant respect for their interests.

The fact that little work may be done in government offices on Christmas Eve does not mean that those who have important business to transact, which cannot conveniently be suspended for five consecutive days, are of no account. While it may be impracticable, even absurd, to keep an entire staff on duty on Christmas Eve, surely it should be possible to work out a plan whereby departments could be kept open by skeleton staffs with enough responsibility to deal with matters of immediate concern. The unlucky ones could be compensated with time off on New Year's Eve.

Transworld Air Route

DIRECT passenger flights from Copenhagen to Tokyo over the geographical North Pole are to be opened in February by the Scandinavian Airlines System, as its second pioneering venture within the Arctic Circle. The new route will be flown non-stop save for one touchdown, at Anchorage, Alaska; will be 2,600 miles shorter than the present route over India, and will take only 30 hours instead of 50 hours via continental Europe and the Middle East. Douglas long range planes handling 38 tourist or 16 first-class passengers will initiate the schedule.

The same interests in 1954 pioneered the Arctic air crossing from Copenhagen to Los Angeles, after three years of careful testing. Since then their planes have carried approximately 20,000 passengers over the route without major incident;

14,000 of them within the last 12 months. From a twice-weekly schedule this route is being flown now on a daily basis, with both first-class and tourist planes in use. Scandinavian Airlines was followed into the Arctic Circle two years later by the Canadian Pacific Airlines, which has since built up a successful service linking three continents over the northern hub of the world.

Northwest Europe-Asian flights, with marked economies in distance, time and fuel over the northern route, will supply the fullest test yet of the hub-of-the-world aviation theory. They are based on the sound geographical fact that most of the land masses of the earth are grouped about the North Polar Sea. Both out and return Copenhagen-Tokyo flights will pass directly over the pole—half an hour before midnight on the initial schedule.

More People, More Schools

Population of the Saanich Peninsula is growing by leaps and bounds. And population increase always results in other problems trailing in its wake.

In 1950 a $750,000 school building by-law was adopted in Saanich school district. In November, 1955, the property owners endorsed a $712,000 by-law which was intended to fill the classroom requirements of the district for three years.

Trustees of Saanich school district are in general agreement that by September, 1958, overcrowding of classrooms will be experienced again. Only resort of the trustees will be to place another by-law before the ratepayers. It's a fairly reasonable guess that it will again be at least in the neighborhood of the three-quarters of a million mark.

Watered Whisky

Over in Vancouver delegates attending the merger convention of the new B.C. Federation of Labor have passed a resolution requesting that the B.C. Liquor Control Board restore the percentage of alcohol in liquor to its pre-war strength.

While there is some justification in the charge, made on many occasions, that it is invidious to water down good Scotch whisky, it is equally difficult to deny that this practice, insidious though it might be, has enforced a form of moderation in drinking which has done no harm.

Hundreds of additional fatal and near-fatal highway accidents might easily have occurred in this province had whisky and other alcoholic beverages been sold full strength at B.C. government liquor stores.

Man, claim that if B.C. liquor was returned to full strength its disastrous effects could result in an eventual return to total prohibition, with its blind-pigs, bootleggers, backroom drinking and attendant evils.

Young Canada Book Week

No matter what advances are made in the recording, radio and television fields it will be a long time, if at all, before those devices replace the printed word as a means of information and enjoyment.

There is a good deal of education and pleasure to be derived from the printed word, but unless good reading habits are formed when a person is young it is very easy for interest in reading to be completely lost by the time the young person becomes an adult.

In this district there are excellent local libraries—libraries which are well used. There is really no excuse why children should not read good books. They are there to be had and we feel sure they would be read if the children are guided properly.

The classic children's tales are well worth reading. It is only necessary to introduce the child to them and we feel great friendships will be formed. Children's stories which have become classics can hold their own against rubbishy literature and comic books; they need not be forced on the youngsters.

Symphony Comes to Duncan

Musical history is to be made in this district this winter. In mind are the three concerts announced for the Cowichan High School auditorium by Victoria Symphony Society, aided by Duncan branch, Business and Professional Women's Club, as publicity conveners.

It will be the first time that a full symphony orchestra of 70 musicians has played in this valley. There is a treat in store for us. The offerings of radio and television cannot match the thrill of being present at a symphony concert. It is one of life's very pleasant experiences, even for those whose technical knowledge of music is negligible. A symphony represents a human triumph of musical arrangements which non-musical persons can readily appreciate.

Owing to the expenses involved it is doubtful if there will be any profit. The gesture of the Victoria Symphony Society in its willingness to share its treasures with us becomes, then, an act of musical altruism with a high cultural value. Musically speaking, many rich and stimulating hours of entertainment are to be ours far more cheaply than we could buy them elsewhere.

Thinking Aloud

"... of shoes—and ships—and sealing wax—of cabbages and kings."

By TOM TAYLOR

ON THIS page last week Gerald Waring referred to a poll which appeared to show public opinion in favor of Britain's Suez action and, disclosing that it was taken only in Toronto, said that "if the best support Britain could muster in Tory Toronto was 43 per cent, then..."

There was no need for the sneer. Mr. Gallup took the poll and certainly without benefit of Downing Street.

It is so easy to twist the lion's tail these days, especially when you live securely on the well-moated island of North America. As witness the bold spirits of the UN, who did not hesitate to order a police force to displace the British in the Suez area but took refuge in dialectics when it came to Russia in Hungary.

Britain of course—whose heritage of law and order, decency and fair play, was bequeathed to North America—would respect the UN's representatives. So much was patent, therefore the UN could be unctuous and stern. Russia is too big and too callous to bring to heel, so conscience was appeased by pious resolution.

Smite the weak but play safe with the strong, a comfortable philosophy. If minds are to shy from reality and invoke the high purity of morality let them ponder this twist of moral behavior.

I think Sir Anthony Eden made a bad mistake in launching his troops at Egypt, but I also think he made a bigger one when he agreed to a cease-fire before securing control of the whole canal area. Nothing has been gained but instead much lost. Britain will now retire in favor of the UN.

The UN, surely a weak reed in a real crisis.

Nothing has been more pathetic than the role of Dag Hammarskjöld as President Nasser's messenger-boy, never more evident than when he said three days ago that the presence of British and French troops prevented the UN police force from fulfilling its task. And the only effective component of the UN force twiddling its thumbs in Halifax 5,000 miles away!

The voice was that of the UN but the speaker was Egypt.

The UN—let us face it—has no power over any nation which disdains its lectures.

It is a handy agency, of course. It permits the isolationist to hug his moral soul and escape responsibility for the kind of action that may be necessary in a given emergency. And when geography is in one's favor how pleasing this is to the smug and complacent.

This is not to suggest the New World should hang on Britain's coat-tails. By no means. But it is to say that the New World's best friend, its staunchest and most vigorous ally in any global upset, is still the sceptred Isle of Shakespeare.

Condemnation of Britain's action if you like. Certainly. But not the unfair, snide and cruel calumny—never more distorted than by comparing Suez to Hungary—that has run rampant all over the North American continent.

Let there be no mistake about one thing. Were Britain to go down, were it to lose its influence in the Middle East or in any other area where for so long it has counted for good, were it to be reduced to the impotence of a third-rate power, as some North Americans seem to desire, then the New World would find that all its vaunted might could not atone for such a disaster.

Great Britain needs North America but North America also needs Great Britain. It is folly to pillory your best friend because you cannot get at your enemy.

The Price of Culture

By RICHARD L. THOMAS, Daily Colonist Correspondent

IT APPEARS from provisional estimates prepared by the treasury that the additional cost of the Suez excursion for the British taxpayer will be somewhere between $2 and $3 per head this financial year. It does not sound very much computed per capita, but there are 50,000,000 of us, and in terms of cash it is about twice as much as we spend as a nation each year on theatres, music, libraries and museums—the nations' contribution to our cultural welfare.

Against that we will spend in a year about 20 times as much on beer and tobacco and about four times as much on football pools. As a matter of fact it seems likely that the Chancellor will have covered his Suez expense account from the sales of premium bonds which seem to be averaging about $30,000,000 a week—so the first month's sales may provide enough to pay the bill, leaving posterity the privilege of paying the interest and redemption.

The new Coventry Cathedral will cost the same approximately as the latest modern bomber. That in turn is the equivalent to the total amount expended in a year on subsidizing the arts through the Arts Council of Great Britain—but according to the annual report of that body we spend 50 times that amount through the educational system preparing children to appreciate the arts.

The treasury grant to the arts council is approximately $3,000,000 a year.

Against that it is estimated that at least $150,000,000 of the nearly $1,500,000,000 we spend each year on public education is spent directly on cultivation of an appreciation of the arts. Even if we add the amounts contributed by local authorities to the maintenance of libraries and museums—another $45,000,000—the total amount spent from public funds in providing culture is only about one-third spent on teaching children to appreciate it.

It seems to be a graphic interpretation of Britain's ability to "muddle through" that for every $3 a year we find to develop cultural appreciation amongst our children we can find only a modest $1 to help give them the stuff they are supposed to appreciate—and quite surprisingly there are far more people to protest against treasury grants for the arts than there are to protest against expenditure on the cultural sidelines of education. Maybe the argument is that once the art of appreciation has been cultivated we shall have a population prepared to pay cost price of their culture.

Yet nowhere in the world has this been possible. Historically there were always royal patrons of the arts; in time they were replaced by the wealthy landowners and before the Second World War the wealthy industrialists were taking a hand. Today it seems almost inevitable that the welfare state should become the patron, as indeed it has but in a rather niggling way. The private patron is virtually debared by the incidence of income tax.

The result is something rather half-hearted. There are the people who argue that culture is no part of the states function and that if people want an abundance of music, drama and the like they should pay for it and that if they are not prepared to pay for it they should go without. There is a rugged, primitive sanity in the argument—but it is doubtful, for example, if anyone would apply it to the police force, parks, gardens and highways. Amenities have become accepted as a communal responsibility and the old lady who never ventures beyond her own rural garden may as justly complain about expenditure on railways and highways as the non-musical person may complain about subsidizing ing concerts which he would be just as happy without.

Just as the railway traveller and the motorist contribute heavily towards the cost of their amenity so the music lover contributes towards his peculiarity. If the railway traveller paid the whole bill most could not afford to travel.

The motorist pays more than his bill for the use of the highways but no one can say that he pays for the death and destruction he brings. They should pay about half the cost of our hospitals and medical service and a fair portion of the upkeep of cemeteries and crematoriums.

The point of course is whether culture is a legitimate projection of education to be continued throughout life. For some strange reason we have come to accept libraries and art galleries, museums and public parks, but the interpretive arts are still regarded as cinderellas possibly because they are transient. Money spent on a book or a picture represents an asset. It is something tangible—and something justifying a further expenditure on salaries to preserve the asset. Music, opera, drama and ballet are transient. There is nothing tangible left from a performance of grand opera except the minor assets and costume and scenery.

The inference is that the civil service mind can see virtue in arts which provide community assets but not in those which merely exhilarate the human spirit. The ultimate hope no doubt is that the children who have been taught to appreciate the arts at such considerable expense will eventually support their perpetuation as taxpayers. At the moment the cart seems to be jogging along ahead of the horse.

The Packsack

OF GREGORY CLARK

I AM writing this item in a hunting camp far in the north woods, and my companions are five doctors, four businessmen and three newspapermen. At night back in the hunting lodge, even at noon around the luncheon camp fire, or forsooth even when travelling from place to place by boat, the businessmen and the newspapermen are always talking shop. But the striking fact is that in the whole 10 days of holiday in the bush, not once have the doctors talked shop. Indeed, not a word have they uttered that would indicate their profession. Two of them are famous surgeons whose names are known possibly all over the world; two are physicians of equal standing.

Most interestingly and energetically, they join in the discussions of business or of newspaper topics. Their interest in these matters appears to be lively and genuine. Their interest in the wild woods and the animals and birds we see hourly and daily is even livelier. Our guides are their special friends, and they appear to get great satisfaction out of conversing with the guides about anything and everything pertaining to the wilds. But as for their own fascinating profession, filled with mystery and boundless human interest, they appear to have no concern whatsoever.

I cornered the oldest of the doctors and broached this matter to him.

"Why, heck," said he, "any doctor can tell you that the only way to relax on a holiday is to forget your daily work completely and utterly."

It is remarkable to see how thoroughly the doctors take their own medicine.

Tangle-Leg on Sale

HALF a million made-in-Victoria yo-yos had been sold in Eastern Canada, E. N. McCallum, managing director of the Hiker Toy Manufacturing Co. Ltd., reported 25 years ago.

The Hiker factory also turned out such items as kiddie cars and wagons. It was one of the few Canadian plants that had not reduced wages in 1931.

Blue Line bus drivers went on strike, claiming that the company was always three weeks behind in paying wages. The wages: $22.50 a week. In addition, each driver had to provide $10 or more of his own money to make change.

The League of Nations had blundered in handling the Sino-Japanese quarrel in Manchuria, said Hon. Vincent Massey, chairman of the Canadian delegation to the conference of the Institute of Pacific Relations at Shanghai.

Mr. Massey said the league had made a grave mistake in calling upon Japan to withdraw from Manchuria. In submitting the ultimatum, the league had played into the hands of the Japanese war party—consolidating opinion and making it hard for liberal opinion to become effective.

A select committee of the council of the league should have been sent to the Far East for conferences and mediation, as soon as the trouble started.

FORTY-TWO died when the Alaskan liner Jeannie rammed and sank the small steamer Dix off Alid Point 56 years ago.

The Dix sank in five minutes. The doomed passengers were trapped inside. Thirty-seven were rescued.

An engineer, H. P. Bell, reported that Vancouver Island could be linked by rail with mainland lines over a series of bridges for $25,487,671. Of this sum, $7,000,000 would be the cost of laying rail down Bute Inlet on the mainland and from Comox to the bridgehead on Vancouver Island. Mr. Bell had made the investigation for the department of railways and canals at the request of Hon. Mr. Templeman.

"THE police authorities yesterday disposed of, at private sale, all the tangle-leg (bootleg whisky) which has been seized from Indian whisky-sellers during the past two years, amounting to several hundred gallons—sufficient to poison all the Indians on the coast and half the white people of Victoria besides."

So The British Colonist reported, 95 years ago.

"Several parties have lately amused themselves by shooting ducks along the shores of James Bay, near the Governor's residence, and in so doing have very nearly succeeded in inflicting grievous bodily harm on parties who happened to be passing."

"An Indian woman, whilst washing on the opposite side of the bay, was surprised by a bullet from the other side whistling by her ear. Two gentlemen who were passing over the bridge were also astonished at being saluted by a charge of duck shot. This practice of shooting on or near to public thoroughfares should be checked . . ."

Must Have Schools

We parents often hear the boast that a good education is the birthright of every child, but where in the City of Victoria are the children to be educated — in crowded class rooms, in lunch rooms, in basements, in auditoriums?

I understand 20,000 children will be entering our schools in 1960. This year's enrolment shows a total of over 17,000. Under the present system there just isn't the room for such an increase.

The school board is offering a solution, a building program, and asking for the authority to borrow money, and in which the school board is to be the borrower. But unless the ratepayers take the time off their busy day to go and vote on Dec. 13, our teachers and children will be on the streets. What kind of a birthright is this?

We must have more school rooms and facilities. The education of the future leaders of our country rests in the ratepayers' hands.

Liquidation Process

The recent address of Prime Minister St. Laurent in Toronto was remarkable in more ways than one. In addition to confirming Canada's repudiation of Britain and her subservience to the United States at the United Nations the prime minister claimed credit was due the Liberal Party for the appointment of the first Canadian-born governor-general, the Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey.

I had always thought it axiomatic that the Crown should not be brought into any political discussions, far less controversy. I am sure that the prime minister's remarks must have been an embarrassment to Mr. Massey, who has done his level best to justify his appointment and in the opinion of a great many he has succeeded.

What is the next step in this matter of "liquidation"? Perhaps the next Liberal appointee will be an Eskimo, or will it be that the prime minister or one of his Liberal successors may claim credit for the selection of the first president of Canada (or maybe the last)? Whenever that event should happen it would certainly be the end result of Liberal policy and there would be many who would choose to be among those charged with treason under such a regime.

Upon such an issue there could be civil strife in Canada — but what a small step it would be for the Liberal Party to take!

Bewitched, Bewildered

I endorse the sentiments of your correspondents in regard to the Suez Canal question, but I would go a little farther.

"Why are your troops still in Egypt?" the chief of the UN asks Britain and France. It is surely obvious why they have not left. The United Nations when a sudden, drastic decision has to be made, are apparently bewitched and bewildered like any mixed organization. If Britain and France step out then Russia will kindly step in and advise them how to settle the question.

When you have a bully in the camp someone has to cut him down to size. Churchill bitterly regretted our having to fight with the bolsheviks against Hitler, but Britain had no alternative. The United States in the two world wars were very careful not to be involved, though they are an independent product of the British Empire. We speak the same language with evidently a different meaning.

Eden will go down in history as having beaten that gangster-ruled octopus, Russia, to the punch, thus saving the control of the Suez area from Russian dominance and a state of chaos in the Middle East.

Mediocre Morons

Through the volume of "gobbledygook" and financial squandering which is rapidly engulfing our educational system we have received at least one tip as to what our progressive education experts are striving for. According to Dean Scarfe of the UBC as reported in the Colonist, it is culture without brains, "personal adequacy" without intelligence. Dean Scarfe does not believe with Hilda Neathy that Canada should have people well informed with the basic knowledge of the three Rs and states that "well informed people are not necessarily good citizens." Evidently the concept "knowledge is power" has gone by the board and our children are to be molded into a mass of mediocre morons.

The taxpayers of Canada are spending enough money today for alleged education to give every normal boy and girl a grounding in the three Rs which is the foundation of any enduring culture. Is it any wonder that some citizens of B.C. are demanding a royal commission to inquire into the present status of our so-called educational system, or that fears of a collapse of our educational facilities will soon take place?

Christmas All Year?

What does "A Happy Christmas" mean?

Last week, as I was saying farewell to an official of the B.C. Electric, he wished me "A Happy Christmas." Last year one of my cousins in U.S.A. (where some of my relations have lived since 1620) sent "A Happy Christmas" to August. Last July, I received a "Happy Christmas" card from a lady in Victoria that she posted at Christmas time!

Does this go to prove that we are getting better or nearer to the ideology: "A clear conscience is Christmas time the whole year around"?

Where Do They Stand?

Answering Mr. S. Smith: The "person named Partidge" would appreciate the privilege of reply.

Mr. Smith writes as "former secretary of Victoria Peace Council" but fails in any respect to answer my question, "What has the Communist front Victoria Peace Council to say about the atrocious treatment little Hungary has received from the Soviet Union?" — which question was the sole purport of my letter.

Mr. Smith does mention the UN articles on human rights. I would ask Mr. Smith his opinion on whether or not the Soviet Union upholds these rights anywhere that they are in control?

The officers and members of the Communist front Victoria Peace Council are quite free to think what they like in our country, and to express themselves, which, it would appear, they are reluctant to do.

It must be quite obvious that no "hasty action or lack of thought" prompted me to ask the question.

FRANK H. PARTRIDGE.

Death on Highways

A few years ago a vote was taken on the liquor question and those in favor of liquor won a majority of the votes, but the wording of the ballot did not give the Social Credit government the right to authorize the sale of liquor in so many new places.

A few years ago the government made a profit of about $2,000,000 on the sale of liquor. This year they seem to look with pleasure on the prospect of making $25,000,000. Is the extra $5,000,000 enough to pay for the lives of so many more people killed this year?

A lot of car drivers try to live up to the speed limits on highways. Liquor can make a driver careless and reckless and make them think they can get away with a higher speed, and they often do unless they exceed the limit by a wide margin.

PTA Activities

Regional Parley Draws 45 Groups

Representatives from more than 45 PTA groups on southern Vancouver Island will meet here for their regional conference Wednesday.

A panel discussion on "Interpretation of Parent-Teacher Work" will be featured at the afternoon session from 1 to 5 p.m. in St. John's Hall, Balmoral Road.

During the evening session, 7:30 to 10 p.m., the conference theme, "Parent-Teacher Progress Needs Participation," will be discussed and dramatized using group technique involving the entire audience.

A fun fair will be staged by Quaden School PTA in the school auditorium Friday at 7:30 p.m. School trustee Harold Whitfield will speak on the school building referendum at the Tolmie PTA meeting in the school Dec. 10 at 8 p.m. Business session of the meeting will be cut out to allow a longer social program.

Dr. Clifford Carl of the Provincial Museum took the Cordova Bay PTA members on a filmed tour of nature in his backyard at a recent meeting in the school. Plans for the group's Christmas meeting on Dec. 12 were discussed.

The new school building referendum will be discussed by school trustee Richard Reeve and a new scholarship plan will be presented by Clive Kelly at Esquimalt High School PTA meeting in the school auditorium Monday at 8 p.m.

A proposed project for the centennial celebrations was discussed by Brentwood PTA at its recent meeting. The group elected Mrs. A. P. Pugh to represent the association. Victoria lawyer Mrs. Joan Williams spoke on "Women's Rights." Mrs. Olive McHattie was elected corresponding secretary and Mrs. Helen Clarke, recording secretary.

Two color films, "Sahara Run" and an Indian legend, "The Lone's Necklace," were shown at a recent Oaklands PTA meeting as examples of films shown to students. School trustee Mrs. D. P. W. Maunsell gave facts and figures on his school referendum.

HAROLD WHITFIELD
... at Tolmie PTA

A film entitled "Exploring Vancouver Island" was shown to Doncaster-Cedar Hill PTA by Dr. Clifford Carl of the Provincial Museum at its meeting last week.

Greater Victoria School Board chairman W. H. Golby spoke on the school building referendum to Lansdowne Junior High PTA. The new report cards and various aspects of grading and reporting were discussed by a panel led by D. G. Macdonald.

Victoria swim coach Archie McKinnon spoke on the value of teaching children to swim at a recent meeting of the James Bay School PTA.

A detailed discussion of the new report cards by Tillamook School principal W. J. Kitley was held at a recent PTA meeting in the school.

School trustee Walter P.

Jeune discussed the crowded conditions in Greater Victoria schools at a recent meeting of Oak Bay Senior High PTA.

He told parents that if the $3,600,000 school referendum was not passed on Dec. 15, there was the danger of inefficient shift systems being put into operation again.

Full slate of officers were elected at McTavish Road PTA, Sidney; Mrs. J. D. Taylor, president; Miss Joan Chamberlain, school principal; honorary vice-president; Mrs. Harvey Currie, vice-president; Mrs. K. T. O'Halloran, secretary; Mrs. R. Jackson, treasurer; Mrs. Ada Porteous, program; Mrs. S. R. W. North, membership; Mrs. S. J. Wythe, publicity and council delegates; Mrs. Joseph Rickard and Mrs. Charles Whitehouse.

Sum of $474 was raised by Bursdale School PTA at its bazaar. General convener Mrs. Katherine Lister was assisted by Mrs. George Graham and Mrs. Tom Stevenson, homecoming; Mrs. Lloyd Strickland, novelties; Mrs. Doris Wirtanen, aprons; Mrs. Doris Davidson, children's wear and knitted goods; Mrs. Jean Hainstock, embroidery goods; Mrs. J. Stairs and Mrs. Doris Hopkins, candy; Mrs. Maude Smith, raffle, and Mrs. Marie Fraser, white elephant.

Oak Bay Junior High School PTA will meet Monday in the school at 8:15 p.m. L. J. Wallace, general chairman of the B.C. Centennial committee will speak on "A Century to Celebrate."

W. H. Golby, Greater Victoria school board chairman, will address the meeting on the school referendum.

Public Hearing on Trade Licenses and Proposed Business Tax

Council Chamber, City Hall, Friday, 30th November, 2:00 p.m.

All Victoria Trade License holders or those representatives are invited to this meeting to present their views by letter or by BRIEF on the present trade licensing system and proposed business tax which generally are under review by the Special Committee of the City Council. All interested persons will be welcome.

UN Wants Suez Clear But Who Pays Bill?

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (CP)—United Nations delegates anxious to get the job of clearing the blocked Suez Canal started are trying—and not too successfully—to act blasé about who's going to pick up the tab.

Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld has proposed that the job be done first and delegates quibble later over sharing the costs which would run into millions.

MORE DETAILS

Many countries would like more details on how the bill would be split but do not want to delay action by pressing the matter now. Britain is best equipped to handle the job and has indicated she is willing to do so. But there are two possible obstacles to Britain shouldering the task.

GET OUT

First, Egypt has said she doesn't want the British to get involved in work on the canal. She wants them to get out of Egypt. And India is reported considering a resolution demanding that Britain and France, as the "aggressors," be assessed the full cost. British spokesmen have said they would balk if such a resolution were proposed and passed by the General Assembly.

If such a resolution were passed and Egypt stuck to her demand, Britain would be in the position of being told to pay the bill but not allowed to do the job.

HOW FRENCH FEEL

On the other hand, it is understood the French feel Egypt should clean up her own canal. France argues that only one of the estimated 22 ships sunk in the canal were sent to the bottom by Anglo-French action. The others, she contends, were sabotaged by Egyptians to block the canal to British and French shipping.

Hammarskjöld said in his report that "at the present stage" he was not prepared to "indicate how the costs should be shared."

Vivisection Plan Rouses Storm

CALGARY (AP)—A proposed laboratory for vivisection of animals from the city pound has Calgary dog-lovers in an uproar.

Even before the proposal was made public, four persons wrote letters to the city council protesting the laboratory idea. Until then it had been a secret closely-guarded by a group of doctors and the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Terry Adair, SPCA president here, said Friday "we were planning to send letters to members next week asking them to protest such a move when it came up." It is not the first proposal for such a laboratory in Calgary. Two years ago a similar idea stirred up a controversy.

Administrator J. A. D. Thomson of the Colonel By Medical Hospital, where the laboratory was proposed previously, said the institution no longer entertains such ideas.

Suez Canal Blockage Hits Trade

Biggest Factor Of War Moves

By HARRY YOUNG
Colonist Business Editor

Not even the most incorrigible of optimists could have expected stock exchange prices to remain on an even keel in face of the critical news in the Middle East and Europe during the past five or six weeks.

It has, indeed, been remarkable that fluctuations have been kept within bounds, and panic selling has been noticeable by its absence.

The market's reaction to the Suez affair has been that it is not likely to lead to a full-scale war, but that it is going to dislocate severely the normal channels of trade.

How quickly these can be restored depends upon the speed at which the work of clearing the canal of the ships sunk by Egypt is carried out.

Most serious dislocation has been in the world distribution of oil.

The problem is not one of production for the Middle East oil wells remain intact. What has gone are the channels through which the oil moves to market.

The Suez Canal was the chief such channel. About 1,350,000 barrels a day moved northward through it before the blockade. The Iraq Petroleum Pipeline which moved about 500,000 barrels a day from Iraq oilfields to the Mediterranean has also been destroyed, and it may be three months before it can be restored to use.

Loss of oil from these sources can only have an extremely serious effect on the European economic recovery, and its repercussions will be felt, through narrowing trade avenues, in many parts of the world, including the North American continent.

Right but Wrong

An interesting comment on the sad affair is made by a New York investment firm (Arnold Bernhard Inc.) in a review of the present oil situation.

It claims that on economic grounds the west's interests could best have been served by arming the Arabs and Egyptians to complete the rape of Israel and in doing so maintain the co-operation of the Islamic nations from whom the oil is withdrawn.

The review says that such action would have been abhorrent to the western nations, and that Britain and France stepped into the conflict in order to seal-off Israel from the Egyptian heartland.

Where they miscalculated was that a limited campaign against Egypt might be transformed into a major conflict between the Arabs and the Communists on one side and the Israelis and their own forces on the other.

As the situation now appears to be developing into a stalemate, with nobody willing to take a decisive step, the tension may hang over the markets for long enough.

Apart from Suez, however,

May Sag Further

It may be that the limit in inducements to attract the short supply of capital has not yet been reached, and if so stock and bond prices, irrespective of what happens in the Middle East, may sag still further.

On the other hand the market already has on offer many bonds and preferred stocks giving yields which should satisfy even the most fastidious of customers.

Many Canadian companies now take advantage of an income tax concession to pass on accumulated earned surpluses to their shareholders in the form of redeemable preference shares.

They are allowed to do this on payment of a special 15 per cent tax, thus putting the proceeds into the hands of the shareholders as a capital gain, in which state it is not liable for further tax deduction.

These distributions have created some difficulty with estate management, according to the Canada Trust Company. It says that executors have to take whether these funds are to be treated as income for life beneficiaries or as capital to be held for ultimate beneficiaries.

The Canada Trust in its latest bulletin says that in two different cases the Supreme Court of Canada has ruled that such distributions are to be treated in law as capital and not income in every case.

Canadian National Telegraphs has appointed George A. Alderott commercial supervisor of its B.C.-Alberta district. He has served the company in various capacities in B.C. during the past 30 years, and since last year was manager at Edmonton. He succeeds G. T. Durkin who becomes commercial supervisor of the North West Communications System.

Shirriff-Horsley which this week acquired U.S. interests in Green Giant Canners, has been authorized to create 200,000 new preferred shares of $25 par and also 250,000 common shares of no par value.

It is expected these preferred shares will be offered shortly in convertible form with a five per cent coupon.

Dominion Stores is issuing $7,500,000 of 5½ per cent series "C" sinking fund debentures. They are being offered at 98½ to yield 5.62 per cent.

God will be with him and he has no fear of going anywhere, says Peter J. Rykers of Deep Cove, who plans to go to South America to seek a lost city.—(Colonist photo by Alec Merriman.)

'Still Young' Man, 73, Will Seek Lost City

By ALEC MERRIMAN

Peter J. Rykers of Rosborough Road, Deep Cove, believes he knows the location of a lost city in South America and he is now making plans for an expedition to find it.

His first stop will be Ecuador, and he has written to the Ecuadorian government for information about the Galapagos Islands and says he is interested in buying an island.

When talking to The Daily Colonist yesterday he was secretive about his plans, but he did say he was seeking a woman or man partner to explore South America with him on a 50-50 basis.

"Where I am going I will run into wild Indians," he said, and has added that he believed small groups and can read them all, presents given to the Indians. He claims to be a student of humanity and has produced

New Liner to Cut Schedule by Week

VANCOUVER (BUP)—The Orient Line's new giant 40,000-ton Oriana will cut the round Pacific voyage from San Francisco and Vancouver to Sydney, Australia, by a week when it comes into service in 1960, the Cunard Steamship Company announced in Vancouver.

The Oriana's service speed of 27 knots is estimated to cut the present round voyage for London-Sydney-London by two weeks. The ship is now building at Vickers-Armstrong's yards at Barrow-in-Furness, England.

The ship will be able to accommodate 2,825, including 600 first class and 1,200 tourist class passengers and crew of 875, the company said.

The upper promenade deck and the observation lounge are to be enclosed with broad windows to offset the effects of wind velocity caused by the ship's high cruising speed.

The ship will have nine passenger decks. The whole of the superstructure will be built of a light metal alloy saving 1,000 tons in dead weight.

Obsolete U.S. Tariff Act Hinders Border Trade

United States Expert Would Ease Customs

By HARRY YOUNG

The establishment of easier trading relations between Canada and the United States is the purpose of a cross-Canada tour being taken by Edwin J. Cannon, United States customs appraiser at Buffalo.

Mr. Cannon's port-of-call yesterday was Victoria where Albert Reid, local secretary-manager of the Canadian Manufacturers Association, introduced him to Vancouver Island exporters.

"Canadians are our best customers, so it is only right that we should look after them," said Mr. Cannon, who has been specializing in the appraisal of Canadian goods entering the United States for the past 17 years.

"It is amazing how trade has grown," he told me. "When I started in the service 35 years ago Canadian exports to the United States were nearly all raw materials. Now we are handling almost exclusively manufactured articles and the list is growing every day."

That's one of the main difficulties facing the U.S. customs people. They are working on a tariff act that is 26 years old, and it fails to classify hundreds of items that have been invented or discovered since that time.

ACT OUT OF DATE
"In our 1930 act only cellulose acetate is mentioned in the plastics group," said Mr. Cannon.

Since the new regulation came into force last May, Mr. Cannon has completed 65 reports, and on his present trip he has received 19 more.

DIFFICULTIES EXAGGERATED
"One of the things I am trying to break down is misunderstanding and lack of knowledge," said Mr. Cannon. "Many Canadian exporters are afraid of the U.S. market because of stories they have heard about customs problems."

"I am now meeting them face to face and explaining what they have to do and they express surprise that it is so simple," said Mr. Cannon. Asked what type of Canadian goods were being introduced to the U.S. market, he said:

His wants are few, his mode of life close to nature.

He plans to finance his trip through the sale of his property at Deep Cove and Roberts Bay at Sidney.

His skills are many. He is an expert craftsman and has built and sold several log cabins. He is a boat builder, a photographer (he styles himself as an expert at retouching), an artist in oils, and musician.

He understands and reads several languages and came to Canada from Holland 30 years ago. He has lived on the Saanich Peninsula for 12 years.

TWO VIOLINS
Among his proud possessions are two violins he carved by hand. They appear to be as fine as many commercially produced violins. One is made from wild cherry wood cut off his three acres of view property at Deep Cove. The other is made out of maple wood.

Mr. Rykers plays the piano, accordion, flute, violin, clarinet and several other instruments. He speaks Spanish and another of his interests in his proposed South American venture is the study of prehistoric man. He says that on the Galapagos Islands some remains of prehistoric man and animals have been found and that some prehistoric animals still roam the islands.

The streamlined funnel with its "Welsh-bonnet" on top will ensure freedom of the decks from sunbathers. Radio Oriana will have no mast. Radio aerials and signal halyards will be rigged from her funnel, fore and aft.

the United States. Mr. Cannon said they were in great variety. "We get lots of applications for the import of furniture, biscuits, jams, jellies and canned goods," he declared.

Mr. Cannon's boss, Ralph Cannon, is sure of it.

Share East's problem in the defence of this deal West opened the five of hearts. Declarer wins your right with the ten and leads the ten of diamonds. West plays the four. North the king and you are in with the ace. You lead back the queen of clubs. South plays the four. West the three. What is your next lead? And how do you know?

You should lead a spade. The clues come from the bidding and the play. You know that South holds at least ace-queen of hearts. He must also have either the ace or the king of clubs. If he also had the ace king of spades, he would have made a stronger rebid than play of dummy's king on the first diamond strongly suggests that his ten was a singleton.

If East returns a spade and South takes the finesse he will be set two tricks. If he gives up the finesse—and with it all

Huge Buildup Adriatic Sea Base Red Plan

By HEMEN RAY
North American
Newspaper Alliance

EAST BERLIN — The Soviet Union is now building a major naval and submarine base in the Albanian island of Saseno in the Adriatic Sea, according to reliable sources in East Berlin.

Reports are that the Soviet union is also enlarging the ports of Durazzo and Valona for larger ocean-going vessels and oil tankers. The southern Albanian port of Sasenda is being developed as a modern naval base. The Soviets are linking the seaport of Valona to the open sea with an oil pipe line to speed up the refueling of Soviet ships, according to the source.

According to the same report, between 5,000 and 7,000 Russians, East Germans and Czechs are working around the clock to build the new Soviet naval base and develop Albanian sea ports.

Reports also say that Soviets are building air strips for Soviet jets in the Cape of Linguetta. At present, two squadrons of Soviet jets are stationed in the airstrips in the port of Valona, where Russians built a strip two years ago.

The Soviet Union has already transferred a half-dozen submarines to the Albanian naval and submarine base in the island of Saseno. A part of the Soviet Black Sea fleet will be stationed in the Albanian base for the operation in the Mediterranean.

The Soviet Union has virtually detached the island of Saseno, ports of Saranda, Valona and the Cape of Linguetta from the Albanian republic and placed them under the direct administration of the Soviet ministry of defence.

Wild Ride Finishes In Court

Two young men who knocked over a telephone pole in a stolen car after a 70-mile-an-hour chase by Oak Bay police early Saturday appeared in city police court yesterday.

Robert John Bowen, 321 Menzies, and Raymond Joseph Carrier, 324 Michigan, pleaded guilty to taking a car from the south driveway at Empress Hotel at 4 a.m. without the owner's consent. They were remanded for sentence until Monday.

They had started the car by putting silver paper in the ignition. Oak Bay police checked them on Oak Bay Avenue after an alert was put out on the stolen car.

The two rammed their car away from police officers and a 70-mile-an-hour chase ensued. They took a corner at Oak Bay onto St. Patrick without lessening speed, police said, and crashed into the pole.

The Man Every Woman Wants

By JOE HYAMS

One day recently Clark Gable received a parking ticket in Monterey, Calif. He went in person to pay the fine at the courthouse. Within minutes the word was out. "Clark Gable is here."

Office workers, secretaries and bosses of the building. The girl in the cashier's cage acted as most girls do when confronted by Gable in the flesh. Her hands shook.

Later, a newspaper reporter polled the people in the courthouse. He asked one question: Was Clark Gable a disappointment?

Ninety-five per cent of the men and women polled said he wasn't. One girl who spoke for the minority said that it wasn't so much that he was a disappointment. It was just that no one, not even Gable himself, could live up to the image she had always had of him.

As Mervyn LeRoy, who has directed Gable in many pictures, said recently, "When you talk about Gable you aren't talking about a man, or even an actor. You're talking about a symbol. Gable is an institution."

The secret of his success lies not in his ability nor in his affable and honest personality on the screen. It can best be explained by the fact that to millions of Americans he is the symbol of masculinity. He is the one male star who is never a disappointment to his fans. He is all man!

At a time when youth's national film heroes are boys, Gable stands alone as a man of action. There's nothing neurotic about him. Women don't want to mother Clark Gable. They want to make love to him. Today his hair is graying at the temples, his face is lined, his voice is mellow and mature. But when he looks at an actress, right eyebrow cocked quizzically and says, "Come here, baby," the audience knows he means business.

Now in his 35th year as a film star, Gable is still the actor most in demand in Hollywood. Despite a handful of mediocre pictures in the 17 years since "Gone With the Wind," he is the most popular actor in the world.

Two years ago, he quit M-G-M, severing a relationship more than 20 years old because, he says, "I wanted to make my own mistakes. If I appear in a bad picture from now on, it's my own fault."

On the day he left the lot he expressed regret about only one thing. Robbie Robertson, his makeup man, wasn't coming with him. The next day Robertson quit to join his old boss.

As a free lance actor Gable has his pick of parts despite the fantastic percentage he demands — and gets — for a picture. Last year, for example, he made two pictures for 20th Century Fox. "Soldier of Fortune" and "The Tall Men." He owned 10 per cent of each picture's gross earnings before expenses were deducted.

Darryl Zanuck, who was Fox production chief, is reported to have remarked quizzically, "Gable now owns half of our studio."

This year Gable has appeared in only one picture, "The King and Four Queens." He is a partner with Jane Russell and Bob Waterfield in the production which, if successful, will bring him close to a million dollars.

Although he spends much of his time reading scripts submitted to him, Gable admits he is not anxious to make more than one or two pictures a year.

"I think I've made enough pictures so that instead of taking one month off I can take three or four. I'd like to enjoy life a little. I think I have earned it."

When he's not working Gable spends most of his time at his 20-acre home in Encino, Calif., with Kay Spreckels, his fifth wife, and her two children, Adolph Spreckels III, six, and Joan, four. Mrs. Gable has a heart condition. She and Clark lead a quiet family life loafing, reading and swimming.

On week ends he is likely to take the station wagon and go dove shooting with "the boys," a group including such unlikely youths as Fred MacMurray, Gary Cooper and Robert Stack.

During the years he was at M-G-M Gable was considered inaccessible. The studio built a wall around him. Would-be interviewers were told "He's impossible" or "Even if he does talk to you it will be about hunting and fishing and you can't print that."

For this series Gable agreed to open up. He said, "It's time to set the record straight." He agreed to these interviews, most of which were conducted in his home.

On screen Gable appears to be a perfect gentleman. At home he is the perfect host. He is so determined to make his guests comfortable that his solicitude can become embarrassing.

His memory is remarkable. He is able to recall dates, places, names of people and theatres with amazing accuracy. Occasionally when asked a question he doesn't wish to answer he will smile quizzically as if to say, "You really don't expect an answer to that do you?"

But in the end he answered all, or almost all, my questions. And he answered them graciously.

(Next, Clark Gable's beginnings.)

Clark Gable and his wife, Kay Spreckels. They are both interested in loafing, reading and sports.

Duncan Gets First Instalment Of Musical Bargain Friday

By BRUCE LOWTHER

The first instalment of the best musical bargain in Duncan in a long time is given Friday when the Victoria Symphony Orchestra plays the first of three concerts there.

Hans Gruber conducts a program of Copland's "Outdoor" overture, Elgar's "Enigma" variations and the Tchaikovsky violin concerto with Esther Glazer as soloist. Place is Cowichan Junior High School.

The soloist, wife of Vancouver conductor Irwin Hoffman, played the Mendelssohn concerto here almost two years ago. She was born in Chicago and perhaps her highest musical achievement was with Zara Nelsovan in the Brahms double concerto at Vancouver last season.

Also on Friday, the Meistersingers of Victoria will sing in Gordon Head Elementary School, Torquay and Kenmore, at 8:15 on behalf of Scouts, Cubs and Guides in the area. Dudley Wickert directs the 20-voice choir, in a varied program.

The festive season will go beyond Christmas Day.

Victoria Theatre Guild's studio group has decided to postpone its presentation of Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" until Dec. 28 and 29 at Langham Court Theatre.

Group officials approved the postponement because "Carol" was shaping up as a bigger production than expected and the theatre is needed this week for rehearsals of "Dear Brutus," the VTG show Dec. 8 to 15.

Also on the December schedule: Symphony concerts at the Royal Dec. 2 and 3, with the same program as at Duncan Friday, and Yi-Kwei Sze at the same theatre Dec. 4.

St. Luke's Players present two plays in St. Luke's parish hall Dec. 6 and 7. Casts are "A Man's Estate," Charles Gibson, Allen La Croix, Sandy Pogson, Judy Nicholson, Dena Gibson, Jennifer Hutchins; "Portrait of a Gentleman in Slippers," Harry Lukey, Roy Blivins, Rosalind Johnson, Russell Gurney.

Victoria High School's winter fantasy, in the school Dec. 7 and 8, is going to be a big one—with band, orchestra, dance group, musical organization and drama club.

The band will play "Pet and Peasant" and will have a surprise final number. The orchestra will do "Peter and the Wolf" among others. The musical group will do an adaptation of Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro."

Paul Gallio's "The Roman

Kid" will be the play and the dancers will present "Autumn Leaves" and "Canadian Sunset."

Operatic cast includes Leslie Millin, Sheila Clark, Jacques Wright, Carol James, Sylvia McGillivray, Irene Dunnitt, Janie Hardie and Gail Wood.

Also next month are "Messiah" at the Royal Dec. 10 and Britten's "Ceremony of Carols" at Christ Church Cathedral Dec. 23.

Victoria Musical Art Society's carol tea, in the Empress Hotel at 3 p.m. Dec. 15, will include the Madrigal Singers, the Dorothy Francis string ensemble, dances by the Velda Wille studio and harpist Lorna Langley with solo voices.

All in all, a very busy month.

Interesting items from here and there:

J. Arthur Rank will buy or lease theatres in the United States to show his pictures. His first is the Sutton, New York.

A theatre in Baytown, Texas, gave away a free funeral to publicize a horror package, "The Mole People" and "Curucu, Beast of the Amazons." A 16-year-old boy won.

George Abbott has signed to produce "Damn Yankees" for Warners next year.

Surely they can't be serious. Warners has hired, for 45-star cast of "Mankind," Edward Everett Horton to act as Sir Walter Raleigh and Groucho Marx to take the part of Peter Minuit, who bought Manhattan for $24.

Consecration Set Jan. 6

Consecration of the newly elected bishop of the Cariboo, Rev. Dr. R. S. Dean, will take place in Christ Church Cathedral on the Feast of the Epiphany, Jan. 6.

Dr. Dean, 40, was elected at a synod meeting in Kamloops Wednesday. His election is subject to the assent of Archbishop Harold E. Sexton and the bishops of British Columbia. The diocese has been administered for the past two years by Archbishop Sexton through an episcopal commissary, Dr. Dean, a graduate of the University of London, has been principal of Emmanuel College, Saskatoon, since 1951.

Corelli Concert Slated

Bellringers, toys and a Victoria premiere are part of the Christmas concert of the Corelli Society, which will be held in the Art Gallery Dec. 15.

Program will begin with Haydn's "toy" symphony, by a small group conducted by Dorothy Francis. Next item is a Bach trio, consisting of Bernard Rain, violin; Margaret Christian, soprano, and Charlotte Kay, piano.

FIRST IN CITY

First local performance of Benjamin Britten's "Ceremony of the Carols" will be given by a women's choir led by Margery Vaughan with harpist Lorna Langley.

Duo pianists Mrs. John Gough and Miss Nowell Smith will play music of Debussy, and the guest artist, the bellringers of Royal Roads, will conclude the evening with a group of carols.

Band Concert Attracts 300

An audience of more than 300 was entertained at a band concert and parade of talent in Belmont High School Friday. Winners of various events were Faith Bligh, Georgina Hestock, Shirley Knight, Brian McKay, Roger Darling, Trevor Mathias, the Ball sisters and Belmont dance orchestra.

TV Preview

City Television All Set to Go Saturday at 5

By BRUCE LOWTHER

Victoria will have a new channel and British Columbia will have its first private television station when CHEK-TV goes on the air at 5 p.m. Saturday.

Starting time was announced by manager Charles White, who also said test pattern is expected to start late tonight or early tomorrow.

CHEK-TV will go at once into its regular schedule with, in order, Count of Monte Cristo, Wild Bill Hickok and Oh Susanna.

At 6:30, Hon. R. W. Mayhew will officiate during a 30-minute "opening" show. Provincial, municipal and federal officials are being invited to take part in this program.

Channel 5 then will switch to Lolly Too Dum, Holiday Ranch and two special movie classics, "The Private Lives of Henry VIII" and "Stagecoach."

Test pattern is liable to make this a most hectic week for viewers and for service workers.

Shaw, Sports

It's also going to be a week of Shaw, sports, medicine and give-aways.

George Bernard Shaw's "Man and Superman," with Maurice Evans, on channel 4 at 9 p.m. today, is in the "must see" category.

In the sports world, the Grey Cup game can be seen again, on channel 2 at 12:30 today; Archie Moore and Floyd Patterson go for the heavyweight boxing crown on channel 4 at 7 p.m. Friday; Army meets Navy on channel 4 at 10:15 a.m. Saturday.

There are no less than four medical programs, starting with one on medical illness on channel 11 and 12 at 2 p.m. today, and one of the children's Orthopedic Hospital, Seattle, on channel 5 at 4:30 this afternoon.

Seattle doctors will conduct a heart operation in color (a test operation?) on channel 4 at 10:30 p.m. Monday, and a documentary on medical missions in the Belgian Congo may be seen on channel 4 at 9:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Give-aways may be slipping, but The Price Is Right, with Bill Cullen, starts on channel 4 at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon, and Can Do, a $50,000 effort with Robert Alda, begins on the same channel at 9 p.m. tomorrow.

Jimmy Durante makes his first appearance this season on Walter Winchell's show on channel 4 at 8:30 Friday. And there's an opera by Manuel de Falla on channel 2 at 10 p.m. Thursday.

Movie fare is slim during the week, but what's around is top. Channel 12 has "The Long Voyage Home" at 10:35 Wednesday and "The Winslow Boy" at the same time Thursday. Channel 4 shows "How Green Was My Valley" at 11:05 Saturday night.

Monday's Best

Bold Journey takes five men 20,300 feet to the top of Mt. McKinley (channel 5, 7:30 p.m.).

Robert Montgomery Presents humor, with Jerry Lester beating the bookies (channel 4, 9:30 p.m.).

Apart from that, there are the regulars—Danny Thomas, Burns and Allen, and Lucy, and if the idea of a one-hour heart operation in color appeals to you, go ahead.

Monday Sports

Famous Fights (channel 12, 6:30 p.m.) and Greatest Fights (channel 2, 11:15 p.m.).

Texas wrestling (channel 12, 8 p.m.) and Seattle wrestling (channel 13, 9 p.m.).

Monday Movies

10:00—No title, channel 5, 12:00—"Julie" or "Cease from Anger," channel 4.

12:30—"Case of the Frightened Lady," channel 5.

1:30—"Action in the North Atlantic," channel 12.

2:00—"Betrayed," channel 11. Robert Mitchum, Kim Hunter.

2:05—"Father's Wild Game," channel 13.

2:15—"Casamancas," channel 2.

3:00—"Tonight at 8:30," channel 5, recommended.

3:30—"Adventurous Blonde," channel 12.

3:45—"The Pittsburgh Kid," channel 4.

6:45—"Thief in Silk," channel 12.

7:00—"Fog Island," channel 13. Renewed at 1 a.m.

10:35—"Variety Show," channel 12. Dick Powell, Fred Warne.

10:45—"The Tribe," channel 5. Robert Taylor.

10:45—"Buried Alive," channel 13.

11:05—"Captain Scarlett," channel 11. Richard Greene.

11:15—"Eagle Squadron," channel 2. Robert Stack, Diana Barrymore.

Child Star Kept On Hard Way

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I got to be 25 and I was scared. My mother had died and I had lost my father when I was young. When I discovered there were men younger than me in the business, I lost all confidence. I had always been the youngest of anyone I worked with."

This was the testimony of Jackie Cooper on the evolution of a child star. He has found more fame as an adult than most child stars. But it hasn't been without a struggle.

When Jackie returned from military service, he found little demand for his services in Hollywood. He wanted to stay in the acting business, but realized he needed to know more about it.

"So I packed up and went to New York," he said. "For nine years, I worked in the theatre and live TV. Luckily I had saved some money when I was a kid, because I averaged about $150 a week in those nine years."

"But they were a good investment. I learned my business, and I think I'm equipped to handle the future now."

Tillicum To Close

Tillicum Outdoor Theatre closed for the winter when the final showing of "Algiers" ended last evening, manager Bill Ward announced yesterday.

He said the theatre would reopen in mid-February.

Eskis Win Third Straight Grey Cup

Great Edmonton Club Makes Canadian Football History

TORONTO—Edmonton Eskimos Saturday became the first Western Canadian team to win the Grey Cup three times in a row as they trounced Montreal Alouettes, 50-27, before a record Eastern Grey Cup crowd of 27,425 people.

The score of 50-27 was official. It could have been 50-0, but for one of the classic blunders of Grey Cup history.

Handles Job Well

But while Elcheverry was using stopped, Don Getty, a 35-year-old University of Western Ontario quarterback, who had one little season since he joined the Eskimos, handled the signals all the way for the Edmonton team.

The Montreal Alouettes, who were the defending champions, were defeated by the Eskimos in a game that was a record for the Eastern Grey Cup.

Grey Cup Summary

The Eskimos intercepted four times and recovered three Montreal fumbles. That was far too many errors to make against a ball-control club such as the Alouettes.

Parker scored three touchdowns and kicked to the dead line for 19 points, a new Grey Cup record for one game. Parker now has 54 points in Grey Cup games, second only to Joe Krol, who scored 60 points.

The Eskimos intercepted four times and recovered three Montreal fumbles. That was far too many errors to make against a ball-control club such as the Alouettes.

Most of the team's control was in the hands of Parker, who was watched by Eskimos fans in their third straight Grey Cup game. The Montreal Alouettes, who were the defending champions, were defeated by the Eskimos in a game that was a record for the Eastern Grey Cup.

It was in the second quarter of the game that Parker scored his first touchdown. He ran for 10 yards and then handed the ball to a teammate who ran for another 10 yards.

Setting a new Grey Cup scoring record with three touchdowns and a single for 19 points, Parker again proved to Toronto fans that he is a true Canadian football star.

Russians Stay Close to U.S. But Title Hopes Take Setback

BY TER SMITH

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 24 (AP)—The Russian basketball team, which had been the favorite to win the title, suffered a setback today when they lost to the United States in a round robin game.

The Russian basketball team were still left in the competition on a round robin basis and the Soviets have plenty of points coming up in the women's track and field events, rowing, weight lifting, boxing and gymnastics.

GLORIOUS MORNING SUNSHINE flooded the living room of Beacon Cottage. The tall, uncurtained windows with the wooden shutters folded neatly back gave every access to light and air.

The room was bright and cheerful, and the air was fresh and pure. The doctor, a gentle man with a kind face, was sitting in a large, comfortable chair, looking out at the garden. He was wearing a white coat and a stethoscope around his neck. He was holding a small book in his hands, and he was looking at it with a smile. The patient, a young woman with dark hair, was sitting on a chair next to him, looking at him with a smile. She was holding a small gift in her hands, and she was looking at it with a smile. Ward Harris, the author of the weekly article "Talking of Animals," has been asked to write a profile of E. D. Ward Harris. The article is titled "The Brussels Griffon" and is part of a series of dog profiles.

Here Is E. D. WARD HARRIS' Profile on

The Brussels Griffon

AESTHETICALLY, the Brussels Griffon leaves much to be desired. That's not his fault. A relatively new breed (late 19th century) he is the result of a mixing of Yorkshire terrier, miniature schnauzer for affenpinscher, or both, pug and spaniel.

The Brussels Griffon is a small, alert dog with a distinctive face. It is known for its intelligence and loyalty. The breed was developed in Belgium and is now recognized by several kennel clubs.

E. D. Ward Harris will discontinue for a time his weekly article "Talking of Animals." However, because it is known that many people are collecting his series of dog profiles, these will be continued.

HE HAS A WATER-COLOR TECHNIQUE ALL HIS OWN

The PAINTER on ESQUIMALT LAGOON

By ALEC MERRIMAN

FRANCIS H. RAWCLIFFE of Anchorage Road, on the Esquimalt Lagoon, has developed a water-color painting technique, which, as far as he knows is all his own. He paints with watercolor pencils—the same kind of colored, indelible pencils used for marking purposes in scores of Victoria offices. And his paintings have two-dimensional, warm, sharp and bright effects not usually associated with water colors.

HIS FIRST PART WAS A GIRL'S BUT HERBERT KENT IS VICTORIA'S Grand Old Man Of Music

By BERT BINNY

"THE absolute satisfaction in music comes from making your own!" This is the opinion of a man who should certainly know whereof he speaks. Herbert Kent, of 228 Douglas, now in his 95th year, has an active music-making career extending over more than eight decades.

Back in 1872 a Sunday School Christmas entertainment took place at St. John's Church, then located where the Hotel is today. Some 200 children, 100 of whom were members of the church, sang and played. The first of the children who were singing was a girl, who was singing a solo.

It was Herbert Kent, and this was the beginning of a career in music-making. Mr. Kent, who was then a young man, was singing a solo. He was singing a solo.

It was a "non-professional" concert given by a group of children. Mr. Kent, who was then a young man, was singing a solo. He was singing a solo.

A new book, "The Age of the Lightning Sail," by C. Wright Mills (Oxford), is a hard-backed volume, but it is a very interesting one. It is a history of the lightning sail, which was used in the 18th century.

The book is written by C. Wright Mills, who is a well-known author. It is a very interesting book, and it is well worth reading.

Highway Still Open To World Tolerance For Muddled Mankind

By WILLIAM D. PATTERSON

THERE PROBABLY HAS NEVER BEEN an age when mankind needed more desperately to practice what Harry and Bonaro Overstreet call the "drama of understanding."

In their latest book, "The Mind Goes South," they explore the mind and its mysteries, and show how it can be used to create a better world. The book is a very interesting one, and it is well worth reading.

Harry and Bonaro Overstreet, who are well-known authors, have written a book that is very interesting. It is a book about the mind, and it is well worth reading.

1. The first step in the process of creating a new product is to identify a market need. This involves conducting market research to understand what consumers want and what gaps exist in the current market.

2. Once a market need is identified, the next step is to develop a concept. This involves brainstorming ideas and creating a rough sketch of the product.

3. The third step is to create a prototype. This is a physical model of the product that allows you to test its functionality and appearance.

4. After creating a prototype, you need to test it. This involves giving the prototype to a group of people and asking them to provide feedback on their experience using it.

5. Based on the feedback, you may need to make adjustments to the product. This could involve changing the design, improving the functionality, or addressing any issues that were identified during testing.

6. Once you are satisfied with the product, the next step is to create a business plan. This document outlines the costs of production, the pricing strategy, and the marketing plan.

7. Finally, you need to launch the product. This involves getting the product into stores or online marketplaces and promoting it to potential customers.

Danny Kaye Laughs at Barriers

By DANNY KAYE

When the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) asked me to be an ambassador for an organization which is helping the children of the world, I was very simple-minded and did not understand the meaning of the word "ambassador".

But I have been thinking about it for some time. For the past three years I have been travelling all over the world, and I have seen many children who are suffering from lack of food and clothing.

I have seen children who are being used as soldiers in wars, and I have seen children who are being sold as slaves. I have seen children who are being used as beggars, and I have seen children who are being used as prostitutes. I have seen children who are being used in many other ways, and I have seen children who are being used in all the children of the world.

I don't know what kind of an ambassador I make. I know that I am not a very good one, but I know that I am not a very bad one either. I know that I am not a very good one, but I know that I am not a very bad one either. I know that I am not a very good one, but I know that I am not a very bad one either.

I visited and spoke with the President of Turkey, Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden of Great Britain, the President of France, President Gronchi of Italy, the King and Queen of Greece, Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia, Prime Minister Ben Gurion of Israel and the Sultan of Morocco.

'White Christmas' Appliance Parade Awaits Shoppers

A parade of home appliances, unequalled any other year in new automatic features, will await shoppers in more than 50 Greater Victoria stores joining in the special "Make it a White Christmas" re-tailing.

Norman Hall, supervisor of B.C. Electric services to dealers, estimates that the choice will range over a million dollars worth of goods.

Prospects are that sales of the sparkling, work-saving white goods here will top $500,000 before the last ribbon and wrapper is untied Christmas morning.

Looking back over 25 years in the appliance field, Mr. Hall home iron to be tested with a commented that striking wet finger or a temperamental changes have been made from two-slice toaster.

He said that today there are virtually scores of small electric gifts, so popular for Christmas giving that the total sales in December add up to more than one-third of total purchases of that kind in the year.

Mr. Hall added that the trend to the giving of major appliances at Christmas, particularly on the part of father to the rest of the family, was impelled by the highly practical reason that the present gave pleasure and convenience in the household every day for many years.

Greater Victoria, he emphasized, accepted the new and automatic features with alacrity.

What will be the major items in greatest favor in Victoria this Christmas?

A difficult question to an answer depending upon individual appeal. As a guess, the order will likely be this: automatic laundry, refrigerators, television sets and automatic ranges.

REASONS GIVEN

In the dealer service section's tabulation, more than 200 automatic dryer units went to Victoria homes in the last six weeks as a forerunner of what can be expected as the Yule tide approaches.

Refrigerators (three out of four Victoria homes have them), for householders wishing to replace an outmoded one with one with the latest features.

Television, on the strength of a further station being available here and the sheer variety with which the magnetic picture entertainment has taken over.

NO ABATEMENT

Mr. Hall volunteered the information that there is no abatement in the workshop hobby field and the "do-it-yourself" addict is year by year stocking up with power tools which cut corners in work and give it a professional look.

Occupationally, he added, it was hard to beat the electric appliance industry for the knowledge of living always on the edge of tomorrow and wondering what fascinating new appliance will be next. "Best of all," he concluded, "is the satisfaction that homes get from these wonder servants of the century."

Most welcome family Christmas gift—an automatic dishwasher. This beribboned model which Mrs. H. J. Bigsby, 430 St. Patrick, is smiling upon, is a new portable dishwasher. It saves installation costs, can be moved about for maximum convenience.

No wonder she's dreaming of a WHITE Christmas . . . of a gleaming, new appliance for the kitchen or laundry. For what other Christmas gift can do so much to brighten her life—not just at Christmas time, but 365 days of the year!

This year make it a WHITE Christmas by giving her the new time and labor-saving appliance she needs. And treat all the family to better living every day.

FOR HER BIGGEST CHRISTMAS EVER...

Make it a White Christmas ...give her a Major Appliance

You've got the greatest wife in the world... right? She's pretty, sweet, smart, loving, a good cook... right? So what are you going to give her for Christmas this year... to show her how much you appreciate her? Some trifle she'll never notice? Something she'll have to exchange? A few leaves of folding money as impersonal as a government loan, and as cold as the guest room sheets? No, man! Don't do it! Give her something special this year. Something she'll really go for in a big way. Give her a major appliance! That's a gift she'll be glad to get... and one you'll be proud to give. For it saves her work, worry, steps and money. It gives her more leisure, more fun, the priceless gift of extra time! So make it a white Christmas (or a bright one, if you'd rather; there are some beautiful colored appliances, now). Life in Electronic World To Be Filled with Magic

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
NEW YORK (AP) — Step into your electronic life and home of tomorrow:

It is a world of magic and wonder, a world where the impossible becomes the possible. It is a world where the future is not just a dream, but a reality. It is a world where the boundaries of time and space are blurred, and where the possibilities are endless. It is a world where the human mind is the only limit, and where the only barrier is the imagination. It is a world where the future is not just a dream, but a reality. It is a world where the boundaries of time and space are blurred, and where the possibilities are endless. It is a world where the human mind is the only limit, and where the only barrier is the imagination.

Bed Without Covers

At a time when the world is so full of covers, it is interesting to see a bed without any. This is the case with the new 'Bed Without Covers' which is being advertised. The bed is made of a special material that is designed to keep you warm and comfortable without the need for any covers. It is a revolutionary new invention that is sure to change the way we think about beds. ## Butter Improves Crisps, Cobblers

When late fall brings us closer to a good old Canadian winter... and you wonder what's good about it... come into our parlor and you'll find out. Cause this is our day to dish out Crisps, Bettys and Cobblers, and with a trio of brand new recipes, we're anxious to heartily your family will vote them in at the top of the dessert roster, and you'll keep them there because they're so downright easy to make.

Fruit flavored, you'll find the three of them use in turn some of our wonderful crop of apples, some of the peaches you put down earlier for just such occasions, and some of the cherries which "went down" for the same reasons. Their tasty toppings vary from the crunchiness of an oatmeal crisp covering, through a speeded up bread and butter topping to a cake-like top that owes part of its fine flavor to sour cream.

In fact with these desserts it's a case of sugar and spice and other things nice... other things like fruits of the harvest, staples from your cupboard, and that golden dairy food butter, which gives them unmatched flavor.

CRAN-APPLE CRISP

(Makes 6 Servings)

Four cups sliced apples, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup sifted all-purpose flour, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup quick cooking oats, 5 tablespoons butter.

Place apples in a buttered, 2 1/2 quart baking dish. Sprinkle 1/2 cup sugar on top. Sift flour, brown sugar, nutmeg, and salt into a bowl. Stir in quick oats. Add butter and cut in as making pastry. Spread mixture over apples. Bake in a moderately hot oven (350 degrees F.) about 50 minutes or until crust is lightly browned. Serve with cream, if desired.

CHERRY BROWN BETTY

(Makes 4 to 6 Servings)

Two (15 ounce) cans pie cherries, drained, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 1/2 cup cherry juice, 1/2 cup butter, melted, 3 cups soft bread crumbs, 1/2 cup brown sugar, 2 teaspoons orange juice, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, dash salt.

Combine drained cherries, 1/2 cup brown sugar, and cherry juice in a saucepan. Simmer 5 to 7 minutes and cool. Pour crumbs and toss with a fork. Add 1/2 cup brown sugar, orange juice, orange rind, cinnamon and salt and mix well. Add cooled cherry mixture and blend. Spoon into a buttered, 1 quart baking dish. Bake in a hot oven 400 degrees F.) for 20 to 25 minutes or until lightly browned on top. Serve with cream, if desired.

PEACH COBBLER SUPREME

(Makes 6 to 8 Servings)

Two cups sliced peaches, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup peach juice, juice of 1/2 lemon, 2 eggs, well beaten, 1 cup brown sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 1/2 cups sifted pastry flour, 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon soda, 1/2 cup sour cream.

Place peaches on bottom of a buttered, 1 1/2 quart baking dish. Sprinkle 1/2 cup sugar on top. Pour on peach and lemon juice. Beat eggs thoroughly and add 1 cup brown sugar gradually, beating well after each addition. Stir in vanilla. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, and soda and add alternately with sour cream. Pour batter over fruit and bake in moderately hot oven (350 degrees F.) for 35 to 40 minutes. Garnish with peach slices, maraschino cherries, and coconut. Serve hot with sauce.

SAUCE

One cup sour cream, 1/2 tea spoon lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg.

Combine these three ingredients and blend. Serve over Peach Cobbler Supreme.

TOMORROW YOU'LL WEAR—

a fur hemline on a street-length dress. A black crepe and jersey sheath, in junior sizes, is untrimmed except for a border of black fox at the hem.

Slender Evening Sheath

By TRACY ADRIAN

This charming sheath would be a perfect choice to grace a formal dance or dinner and will be equally appropriate for all the holiday parties later on.

The dress is made of white re-embroidered lace and is moulded to the figure. It is strapless and above ankle length with three rows in tones of pink just below the bustline from which descends white chiffon drapery that rounds the skirt.

BAZAAR AND TEA

Members of the order of the Royal Purple are holding a bazaar and tea Friday Nov. 30 at the Elks Home, 732 Cormorant Street. Mrs. P. B. ## European Royalty Impressed With Franco-German Match

European royalty took part over a Franco-German match over match that was arranged in a marriage early this summer. The groom is 25-year-old Dauphin Henri of Orleans. The bride is Princess Marie-Thérèse of France, 22-year-old Marie-Thérèse of Wagram, whose father is

Her mother is the Arch Duchess Rosa of Austria.

The importance of the match to European royalty was displayed in the announcement of the engagement in a torch light procession at the historic castle of Althausen, the home of the Duke of Wurtemberg.

Both principals reach far back in blue blooded lineage but that isn't all. The prospective father-in-law, grand-duke of Luxembourg, is a great-grandson of Louis-Philippe, last of the French Kings to reign. Last but not least, both are extremely wealthy.

The wedding which will take place in the royal chapel at

MARIE-THÉRÈSE

... daughter of Arch Duke of Austria

PRINCE HENRI

... heir to pretender.

PRINCESS MARIE-THÉRÈSE

... daughter of Arch Duke of Austria

Drux and will more than likely put the Rainer-Kelly wedding at Monaco in the shade as far as royalty is concerned.

The pretty, blond Duchess met the Dauphin when she went to visit at the Comte de Paris' home a few miles outside Paris. At the time she was brushing up on languages in view of a proposed career as an interpreter with the United Nations. Since her engagement her plans are changed and she has started a course in child welfare.

The Dauphin, whose 10 brothers and sisters call "Titou" will take his bride on a three month honeymoon trip around the world before serving his time with the Tank Corps in the French Army. He is reported to be an enthusiastic mountain climber and an accomplished skier. Serious, he is a stickler for work and has no use for the "social whirl."

The Duchess is also a keen skier and is taking as well as enjoying other sports. Designing and making her own costume is a hobby, a reputation and she pays no attention to the modern French version of the "look of the day."

The Dauphin's younger sister, 22-year-old Princess Helene, announced her engagement to the Count of Flandre, 25-year-old Prince Philippe of Limbourg, Belgium. They will also be married in the chapel at Drux early in the spring.

Plan Joint Legion Party

ANNE'S Mrs. A. W. W. W. It was arranged to hold a joint Legion party of the Legion and L.A. in the hall of the Legion, 1250 Douglas St., on Thursday, Nov. 27, in the Legion hall.

In addition to socks and slippers, the Legionnaires of the L.A. Legion, 1250 Douglas St., are expected to hold a food show at the next meeting, Dec. 3.

Mrs. A. M. Brown will be in charge of the large Christmas stocking contest and the New Year's Eve festivities will also be arranged by the Legion and L.A. under her sponsorship and that of the Lady Maud Hospital.

Floating Panels Set Important Trend Toward Softer Silhouette

PATTERN A796
by Isabel Dobson

PROMINENT DESIGNER

Fashion's new entrance line—and one that looks to hold the stage from now through the coming season. Setting this important trend, the skirt that shows its back fullness in a totally new way—a floating panel of soft folds, stitched to the waist-cinching cummerbund. It's a pretty contradiction that prominent American designer Isabel Dobson has created: soft fullness against the starkly simple lines of the sheath dress itself. Many ways flattering—Miss Dobson suggests sewing in faille, satin, taffeta, or wool crepe (cummerbund and panel in the same fabric or contrasting, as you wish). For cruise and southern skies, fine silk would be equally lovely.

Pattern A796 is available in misses' sizes 10, 12, 14, 16, and 18. See pattern for yardage requirements.

Send 50 cents (in coins) for Pattern A796 to The Daily Colonist, Pattern Department, 50 Front Street West, Toronto, Ont. Please print plainly your name, address with zone, style number and size.

TV TALK

By Bruce Lowther

A year ago, movies were wondering what to do about television.

Now, with a long string of epics coming from Hollywood and with TV shows laying siege of square eggs, television is worrying about people going back to the movies.

What's being done about it?

Cancellations mostly.

Walter Winchell, Eddie Fisher, DuPont Theatre, Ford Star Jubilee, High Finance, The Bandstand and quite a few more.

Long-awaited Most Beautiful Girl in the World, planned to beat Love Lucy, has finally been cancelled for good.

All-powered CBS has decided not to revamp Saturday night at this time. Gleason will stay with an hour-long Perry Mason show at 9 p.m. and a star-studded Big Record program at 10 p.m.

It's a fine day for TV viewers. With the high light Maurice Evans' first Hallmark show of the season, "Man and Superman," co-starring smoky-voiced Joan Greenwood (channel 4, 9 p.m.).

Other big ones are the Grey Cup game repeat (channel 12, 12:30), a program on mental illness (channels 11 and 12, 2 p.m.), Maria Callas on Ed Sullivan's show (channel 11, 8 p.m.) and boxers Floyd Patterson and Archie Moore with Steve Allen (channel 4, 8 p.m.).

Monday's best, sport specials and movies are with the TV Preview on the entertainment pages of today's edition.

TV BIT: NRC has decided on the fate of the Tonight show. Steve Allen leaves in January; Ernie Kovacs is dropped at that time; new format will be similar to today with a commercial announcer as emcee.

NBC probably won't be able to do "Pat Jones" as a spectacular, with Jose Ferrer, in January. Author John O'Hara says Columbia's movie must come first.

Sir Anthony Nutting who quit the British government recently over Suez, will become a foreign affairs commentator for ABC and writer for the New York Herald Tribune.

Out of Darkness discusses mental illness. Speakers include Dr. William Menninger and Orson Welles (Channels 11 and 12, 2 p.m.).

Rev. E. G. Hansell prominent Social Credit MP opposes recognition of Communist China. (Channel 2, 3 p.m.).

Another visit to Grand Teton mountains (channel 4, 3:30 p.m.) is followed by Wide World with "An American Sunday." Including a visit with Billy Graham. KING-TV tours the Children's Orthopedic Hospital in Seattle. (Channel 5, 4:30 p.m.).

Bernie and Barbara Braden, Beverly Baxter and other Canadians in England are on Perspective (channel 2, 5:30 p.m.).

Air Power shows the Luftwaffe (channel 11) and Confidential File moves to a new time on channel 13—both at 6 p.m.).

Ed Sullivan has Bing Crosby, Phil Silvers and Louis Armstrong (channel 2, 8 p.m.) and Maria Callas, George London, Rudolf Bing, Dimitri Mitropoulos and Clark Gable. (Channel 11, same time).

Steve Allen hosts Gene Autry and others (see sport specials). (Channel 4, 8 p.m.).

Opposite Man and Superman is Omnibus, with Arthur O'Connell in Stephen Crane's moving "The Blue Hotel" (channel 5, 9 p.m.).

See the Grey Cup game again at 12:30, and don't miss the first local telecast of the pre-game parade (channel 2, 11:45 a.m.).

Los Angeles goes to Baltimore in pro football channel 11 and 12, 11 a.m.), while Washington meets Washington State (channel 5, 2:45 p.m.).

Tom Harmon and Bob Mathias report on the Olympics. (Channel 5, 5:30 p.m.).

Light-heavyweight champ Archie Moore and Floyd Patterson, who meet Friday for the heavyweight title, visit Steve Allen. (Channel 4, 8 p.m.).

At 10:30, Man Alive shows the Marianne-Walcott title go (channel 11) while Don Carter bowls against Hank Lauman (channel 4).

31. "She Married Her Boss," channel 5, Claudette Colbert.

32. "Major Barbara," channel 11, Rex Harrison.

33. "Bowery Blitzkrieg," channel 13, the East Side Kids.

34. "Adventurous Blonde" or "Village Barn Dance," channel 12.

35. "Adventurous Blonde" or "The Unsuspected," channel 12.

36. "Action in the North Atlantic," channel 12.

37. Humphrey Bogart, Raymond Massey.

38. "Bad Man of Brimstone," channel 5, Wallace Beery.

39. "Father's Wild Game," channel 13.

Sea Crash Claims Will Cover Years

NEW YORK (AP)—It may take five years to settle the $55,000,000 claims growing out of the Andrea Doria-Stockholm collision off Nantucket last July 25.

ramifications. Basically, it is a question of which ship was responsible for the collision which sank the Andrea Doria and took 50 lives. Or were both ships—or neither one—responsible?

That will be decided in the federal court for the southern district of New York. Both the Italian and Swedish American Steamship Lines agreed to be sued here as a matter of convenience.

But then this question arises: which law applies—United States, Italian, Swedish or international?

Pre-trial hearings began Sept. 19. They are expected to continue until Christmas. Most lawyers believe the court will apply international law as expressed in the Brussels Convention of 1924.

If so, the liability will be apportioned according to the degree of responsibility for the collision as found by the court. If U.S. law holds, and if both lines are found partially guilty, they must share damages equally.

The Italian Line is suing the Swedish Line for $25,000,000 for the loss of the Andrea Doria. The Swedish Line counter-claims for $2,000,000. Half of that is to cover the cost of repairs and the other half is for business lost.

The Italian Line has collected in full the $19,000,000 for which the Andrea Doria was insured.

The Swedish Line has received $1,000,000 in insurance, covering the Stockholm's damage. The insurance companies will be repaid out of any damages awarded to either or both lines.

Suits by shippers for loss of cargo, amounting to $2,000,000, fall under the "carriage of goods by sea" act, which says, in effect, that the cargo is at the shipper's risk.

If the court finds the Andrea Doria solely responsible, the shippers can collect nothing. But if the Stockholm is found fully or partially guilty, then those who shipped goods on the Andrea Doria may collect in full or in part from the Swedish Line.

Baggage losses present another problem, which lawyers say probably will go to the Supreme Court of the United States for decision.

"OLD SYSTEM"

Early air conditioning "systems" installed by ancient Egyptian pharaohs and Roman nobles consisted of using slaves to bring blocks of ice and snow from mountain ranges to be placed on palace rooftops.

Nails, Screws, Bridging Silence Squeaky Floors

By J. RALPH DALZELL

heating systems have been in operation for about a month, many readers ask how to stop squeaking and "bouncing" floors.

Interior artificial heat dries out joists and flooring which help to cause squeaks. The "bouncing" occurs when joists are too small or are spaced too far apart. Several remedies are possible, and the homeowner can do the job himself.

Two ways of stopping first floor squeaks in the flooring where basement ceilings are not plastered are indicated in picture V. The easiest is to toenail through part of the joists, through the subfloor and into the finish floor from the basement. Nails can be spaced about two inches apart and on both sides of joists where squeaks occur. This will stop mild squeaking.

Where the squeaking is severe, use screws. Flat-head one and a quarter inch screws will generally do the job. Drill a pilot hole about two-thirds of the way through the subfloor. Drive the screws about four inches apart in each board in the area that squeaks. Both nails and screws should be used where squeaking is very bad.

In second floors or other floors where access to the under side of the flooring is not possible, drive nails from the surface of the floor into the joists.

To stop or reduce "bouncing" of floors, reinforce the joists. This can be done only where access to the joists is possible. Picture U shows the use of bridging pieces (AC and BD) are placed close together as indicated in picture W. The picture shows the joists and bridging as seen when looking down at them through the floor. One or two lines of bridging can be installed between the joists under all rooms.

The bridging strengthens the joists and will, in many instances, stop bouncing. Use two nails at both ends of each piece of bridging. Many lumber yards sell wood and metal bridging ready to install.

Another way to strengthen joists is to nail upright pieces of two inch thick material, the same depth as the joists, between and at 90 degrees to the joists. A row of these "headers," like bridging, will help stop bouncing. Another method is to add joists along-side of original joists. If the old and new joists are spiked together, bouncing will stop.

ATTACHING FURRING STRIPS

Readers ask how to attach furring strips to masonry walls without drilling holes for anchors. "Anchor nails" shown in picture X can be cemented to the masonry with adhesive available from dealers. Mark off vertical lines 16 inches apart on the masonry. Apply adhesive on the lines where anchors are required and press the anchors on the adhesive. Drill small holes in the furring strips (one hole for each anchor nail) and place the strip against the wall with anchor nails protruding through the holes as shown in picture Y. Shim any strips not in the vertical plane. Then use a hammer to clinch the nails over the strips as shown in picture Z.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—Is metal or other weather-stripping worth while in windows?

A.—Yes. Without weather-stripping the crack around a window is equal to a hole four inches square. Good weather-stripping saves about 20 per cent of fuel bills.

Q.—What type of black pigment should be used in good paint?

A.—Carbon black is the principal black pigment used in the best paints.

Don't Get Excited About Propane

By J. T. JONES

All of a sudden people seem to be excited about propane as a car fuel. Cheaper, they say. Leaves the engine clean as a whistle. Saves maintenance costs. And so forth.

Well, propane certainly has some advantages, but it isn't exactly a matter of dropping in to the nearest garage and filling up with a propane fuel.

First, there's the matter of converting the carburetor. Jack Coray, Keating garage man, has boned up on the subject of propane for cars and he places the cost of conversion at about $300 for representative makes.

That includes a special pressurized fuel tank and special carburetor (standard carbs won't work, for reasons we'll go into later).

As for the fuel's low cost, the figures I've seen so far haven't included the government's fee for using the public highways. That's about a dime a gallon right there.

Fork trucks and such don't have to pay it, because they don't use the roads. But if I had a car that ran on buttermilk, they'd tax the buttermilk.

There's no question about propane actually being a blend of propane and butane. I understand being a suitable fuel for internal combustion engines.

It does leave the valves clean as a whistle, thereby almost eliminating valve grinds, but bearings and cylinder walls still take a beating.

A solid advantage propane offers is higher effective octane rating than premium gasoline has at present. Not that its octane rating is exceptionally high (95 to 100 was the figure given me) but because it doesn't leave carbon stuck to the combustion chamber there is less tendency for the fuel to detonate instead of burning smoothly. Incandescent carbon is probably the prime cause of pinging. Removing this danger might allow compression ratios as high as 11 to 1, but several production engines are running 10 to 1 on premium gasoline.

A look at this gas will show a few things about what kind of system is needed to use it properly.

Propane gas liquefies under moderate pressure. It is sold as a liquid, and as long as the pressure is on, it stays that way. In a car, the liquid vaporizes at just the same rate as the resulting gas is used by the engine. Since it's a gas driven by its own pressure to the carburetor, the usual setup of fuel pump, float bowl and jets is no use. All it needs is two valves, a big one for the air and a small one for the gas, working in unison—or at least in harmony.

The gas valve has to shut off completely when the ignition is turned off, or overnight leakage could cost a whole tank of fuel. Automatic electric valves take care of this point. Any other slight leak, anywhere in the fuel system, would have the same effect, though.

Because of the simple, direct relationship between air and fuel flows, propane should give quicker throttle response, and mixture richness should be more constant throughout the engine's speed range—a big problem with gasoline.

The effect of burning propane, in fact, ought to compensate for the engine's speed range—a big problem with gasoline.

backwoods could be a sticky problem. The other hitch is that the special tank takes up trunk space because of its pressure-resisting shape. This is really a small matter in the cavernous trunks of modern cars.

On the business front, Ford has officially announced that next fall it will bring out a new line of cars in the medium class.

There are two final drawbacks, one major and one minor. The big one is that at present propane just isn't available in the way gasoline is. An empty fuel tank in the Henry I and father of Henry II. Ford said it combed through 18,000 possible names (there are 18,000 possible names) and came up with its choice: Edsel.

The Edsel is designed from scratch, and is a heartening arrival in times when some fine old names show signs of vanishing forever.

American Motors has announced whacking price cuts for Hudson Hornet and Nash Ambassador—as much as $164 at the factory—and a slight increase—$27 to start—for Rambler.

When this hits print, the Victoria Motors Sports Club's annual all-night rally will be over, and very tiring it was, too.

Entry list looks at this writing like the biggest ever—possibly more than 30 cars. Next club event is the annual observation run, next Sunday.

UN Asks Aid For Homeless In Its Care

Residents of Victoria and all other parts of Canada were given a chance yesterday to help the United Nations find permanent homes for the 250,000 homeless people now under its charge.

The United Association of Canada said the UN has granted the office of its high commissioner for refugees permission to make appeals in all parts of the world.

Funds are needed in addition to special grants being made by the Canadian government to the commissioner, primarily to assist in finding homes for new refugees from Hungary.

Donations may be sent to the United Nations Association in Canada, 237 Queen Street, Ottawa. Receipts will be sent for income tax deduction purposes.

Clergyman Harangues Ku Klux Rally

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—A crowd of approximately 1,000 shivering men and women almost panicked Saturday night when a prankster exploded a firecracker at a Ku Klux Klan rally.

Hundreds of spectators jumped over fences and almost knocked down the Klan speaker in chasing after the unidentified persons who tossed the noisemaker. The prankster escaped.

While the crowd roared approval, three crosses were burned across the highway oval at the motor speedway where the Klansmen assembled. One large cross was flanked by two smaller ones.

Two speakers addressed the rally—the Rev. Alvin Horn of Talladega, grand dragon of the Alabama Klan, and a second man identified only as "Mr. X."

Horn, a Baptist minister, alternated in criticizing Justice Hugo Black of the Supreme Court, Jews, Catholics, Negroes and Gov. James E. Folsom of Alabama.

Insisting the Klan he heads is "peaceable and lawful," Horn told his followers that if they "go out on your own and incriminate yourself, then you will have to fight us in court."

But almost in the same breath, he declared:

"The way I feel about niggers who want to integrate in education is this—they don't want an education. They want a funeral."

That brought a shout from the crowd. "Let's go get Rev. K. J. Jr.," Negro Baptist minister and leader of the long Negro boycott against segregated city buses in Montgomery.

Natural Gas Deep in Earth

Have you been wondering just what natural gas is?

Formed millions of years ago through the decomposition of matter, it is found in pockets of sponge-like rock far below the earth's surface. It can only be found by drilling successive wells until the gas-bearing strata is located.

MONTGOMERY, Calif. (UP)—Montgomery's Hill Theatre will show Monday a film of the ballet "Romeo and Juliet" produced by the Bolshoi Theatre of Moscow.

All proceeds will be donated for Hungarian relief.

Huge Airlift to Ferry 1,000 Scouts to U.K.

CALGARY (CP)—What is expected to be the largest mass airlift ever undertaken between Britain and Canada will ferry more than 1,000 Scouts to Britain next August for ceremonies marking the founding of the Boy Scout movement.

R. C. Stevenson of Montreal, vice-president of the Canadian Scout Association, Friday outlined plans for Canada's participation in the international gathering.

Mr. Stevenson, currently on a tour of Western Canada, addressed a gathering of the Calgary Boy Scout Council.

The year 1957, he said, will mark the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Boy Scout movement, and the 100th anniversary of the birth of its founder, Lord Baden Powell.

The mammoth gathering will take place at Sutton Coldfield, Warwickshire, Aug. 1 to 12.

Scouts and leaders from B.C. and Alberta will be flown from Vancouver and Edmonton via the polar route and the remainder of the Canadian group will travel by air from Eastern points.
